DETERMINATION OF ALL THE RIGHTS TO THE USE OF WATER,
BOTH SURFACE & UNDERGROUND, WITHIN THE DRAINAGE AREA OF THE UINTAH BASIN IN UTAH

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER

Civil No. 3070

IT APPEARING to the Court that since the making and entry of the Order to Show Cause and Temporary Restraining Order in this case, that the flow of the Duchesne River has continued to decrease and that because of the extraordinary heat and drouth conditions prevailing, and the imminent danger of loss of crops, and it further appearing that water users have had or are approaching 4 acre-feet per acre,

IT IS ORDERED that the Temporary Restraining Order, dated August 17, 1971, be and it is hereby supplemented as follows:

August 24, 1971,
Effective ~~immediately~~, the State Engineer and Water Commissioner are ordered to distribute to ~~all~~ each water user of record on the Duchesne River, ~~their proportionate~~ a pro rata part of the remaining water in the Duchesne River in accordance with past practices, until further order of this court,

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that rotation practices shall be followed wherever possible to improve efficiency in the use of water.

This order is made without prejudice to the rights of any water user. The court reserves for trial the issues as to duties of water, places of measurement, water carriage losses in the various canals and ditches, the effect of quantity limitations in water applications and water certificates and all other related issues.

Dated this day of August, 1971.
